The Amityville horror: The boy who lived in the true-life haunted house breaks his 40-year silence The house where the Lutzes in Long Island lived was site of mass murder I love my home. When I first moved in, I would often go outside just to stare at its brick exterior and marvel at it. Here is a home that has been standing for over 100 years, and now I own it. I ...Everyone is welcome at Thriving Life Church. If you're still asking questions about faith or are a committed Christ follower, you can make your home here. George Monroe has had a lifelong ambition to achieve one of the great American Dreams: to build his own home, a refuge set on a cliff at the end of the sea. But it's a dream that George has put ...
